

March 15, 2019

CNA – Certified Nurses Day is March 19, 2019!

Dear CNA-certified registered nurse,

In celebration of Certified Nurses Day on March 19, 2019 the COHNA-ACIIST would like to thank and acknowledge you for pursuing and maintaining your Canadian Nurses Association certification in Occupational Health.

You are one of over 600 registered nurses in Canada to hold this prestigious national credential. Well done!

Certified Nurses Day is an international day of recognition that celebrates certified registered nurses' contributions to the advancement of the nursing profession and their commitment to nursing excellence and continuing competence. On March 19, be proud! Wear your CNA certification pin and show your patients, clients, colleagues and employer that you Care to be the Best in your specialty.

The COHNA-ACIIST is proud of your achievements and are pleased to partner with the Canadian Nurses Association to support and promote the Certification Program.

Yours in nursing,

Carmen Skelton RN, COHN(C), BScN, BPE
COHNA-ACIIST || President || Occupational Health Nurse

Leaders Advancing Health and Safety for the Wellbeing of Canadian Workplaces